This warranty is only valid when PABCO® shingles are purchased and applied in the United States or Canada. This warranty specifically warrants that PABCO® shingles are free from manufacturing defects that adversely affect their performance. The major warranty provisions and limitations described herein are shown in the attached Reference Tables.

Limited Lifetime Warranty:
For designated products, the Limited Lifetime Warranty is offered to the original homeowner on single family residential structures only. Single family residential structures do not include commercial structures of any kind, apartment complexes, townhouses, condominiums, or other structures where multiple dwelling units are covered by a common roof. The Limited Lifetime Warranty is prorated in the same manner as the 50-year limited warranty, except prorating ends at year 40. After 40 years, the number of months remaining on warranty is held at 120 (that is, 600 months initial – 480 months of use). For purposes of this warranty, the original homeowner is defined as:
- The original purchaser/occupier of the dwelling,
- The purchaser/occupier at the time of PABCO® shingle installation.

Transfers
Upon transfer of ownership, the Limited Lifetime Warranty coverage ceases and reverts to a fully transferable, prorated 30-year or 50-year warranty period (see Reference Tables for details). See “Prorated Coverage” (as described below) for details.

Warranty for All Other Structures:
The Limited Lifetime Warranty is only applicable to single family residential structures. The warranty lengths for all other structures are shown in Reference Table 2 and range from 30 years to 50 years (excluding the special limited coverage detailed below under the terms of the Non-Ventilated Roof Deck Warranty). These structures include, but are not limited to, non-residential structures of any kind, apartments, town homes, condominiums, or other structures where multiple dwelling units are covered by a common roof.

Warranty Limits:
Excluding “Non-Ventilated Roof Decks,” the warranty term for PABCO® shingles varies from 30 years to a Limited Lifetime depending on the type of shingle purchased (see Reference Tables). PABCO®’s warranty obligation to the owner ends when:

1. The shingles reach the end of their warranted life set forth in the Reference Tables.
2. The then-current owner re-roofs with another product.
3. A claim settlement has been reached which includes and requires a release of all future liabilities.

Ventilation Requirements:
To prevent harmful condensation, air must circulate freely under the roof deck with air flow in all areas. A minimum of 1 ft² of total net free ventilating area is required for each 150 ft² of ceiling area. 1 ft² for each 300 ft² of ceiling area may be allowed if at least 40 and not more than 50% of the required ventilating area is provided by attic exhaust vents located in the uppermost portion of the attic or rafter spaces. Roof systems that are not in compliance with this ventilation requirement are considered a “Non-Ventilated Roof Deck.” For these roof systems, the warranty protection is limited to 10 years of prorated coverage for replacement of shingles which exhibit a manufacturing defect.

Non-Prorated Coverage:
The period for non-prorated protection against manufacturing defects that adversely affect shingle performance can run up to 15 years, depending on the product and application. See the Reference Tables (and “Ventilation Requirements” above) for product specific details. This non-prorated protection period includes replacement product (if available) and reasonable installation costs to repair, replace, or recover the roof, as PABCO® determines, after a formal claim has been processed and accepted. Reasonable tear-off and disposal costs may be covered for certain products (see Reference Tables for details).

PABCO® reserves the right to substitute product of similar quality and color if original product is not available. Items not covered under this limited warranty include metal work, flashing, or other related work. After the “Non-Prorated Warranty Coverage” expires, PABCO® will base the settlement on the number of months of use that the shingles have performed through the date of the filing of the claim, and reduce the amount of payment proportionally for the balance of the warranty. The Prorated Coverage is described below.

Prorated Coverage:
Protection during the balance of the warranty against manufacturing defects that adversely affect shingle performance is known as “Prorated Coverage.” It is limited to the reasonable cost of replacement shingles (reduced by the months of use); or the cost to repair, replace, or recover the defective shingles as determined after a formal claim has been processed and accepted, whichever is less. PABCO®, at its sole discretion, reserves the right to provide replacement shingles as an alternative to paying the cost to repair or replace defective shingles.
